

Prof. Konstantinos Tsioufis

Costas Tsioufis is Professor of Cardiology and Director of 1st Cardiological Department, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Hippokration Hospital, Greece. Prof Tsioufis works as an interventional Cardiologist as well as Hypertension Specialist and he was a post-doctoral fellow at the Veterans Affairs Medical Centre, Georgetown University Washington DC, USA.

Professor Tsioufis's research focuses on the hypertensive disease, atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease and interventional cardiology. He is interested in heart failure, metabolic disorders and diabetes mellitus. He has more than 450 publications in peer-reviewed Journals, H-index > 50, more than 11000 citations and more than 450 invited lectures at international meetings. Member of the Task Force for writing the 2018 joint ESC/ESH guidelines for Hypertension. Co-editor of the book "interventional therapies of secondary and essential hypertension" and he has contributed with more than 20 Chapters in Books. Member of the Editorial Board and Reviewer in many Cardiology and Hypertension Journals. Prof Tsioufis is immediate past President of European Society of Hypertension (ESH) (2017-19) and past President of the Hellenic Society of Cardiology (2016-18).